

The UNC Gillings Executive MHA Program

ARE YOU CONSIDERING GETTING AN EXECUTIVE MASTERS OF HEALTHCARE ADMINISTRATION (MHA) FROM THE TOP-RANKED HEALTH POLICY AND MANAGEMENT (HPM) DEPARTMENT AT THE UNC GILLINGS SCHOOL OF GLOBAL PUBLIC HEALTH? KEEP READING TO SEE WHAT AN MHA COULD DO FOR YOU.

The Unparalleled Value of an HPM Executive MHA

An executive MHA from UNC Gillings, the #1 public school of public health, represents an unparalleled value. As a top-rated school of public health, we give students access to world-class faculty at the leading edge of health care administration. As a program housed within a public university, we provide our programming at a cost that peer schools can't match, particularly for North Carolina residents.

Our exceptional academic experience is a core aspect of the program, so every piece of our curriculum is built in-house at HPM with you in mind. Our MHA program consistently ranks as one of the best in the country, launching graduates into a network of alumni leading impact work at some of the most prestigious health care organizations domestically and globally.

When is an Executive MHA the Right Choice?

An executive MHA program is a wise choice for rising leaders in health care who are ready to accelerate their professional development, hone their management skills, and broaden their network. As a working professional program, students bring real-world problems directly into the classroom.

Our students work across the health care landscape, from hospital administration, to consulting, to payor administration, to medical device sales, to clinical services. But what they all share is the desire to join a network of influential thought leaders dedicated to making health care organizations run better.

Peer collaboration that drives future success

The benefits to your career trajectory are clear, but choosing the executive MHA program is about more than just the numbers. It's about joining a cohort of like-minded, determined individuals who will become your network of trusted advisors throughout your career. It's about being in a program designed to let you keep your job and still finish your degree in two years. It's about being in a supportive atmosphere where faculty and staff are there to build you up when you face challenges. Balancing full-time work and a graduate program can be hard, but with a 97% graduation rate, we know how to support you. Additionally, UNC is committed to health care, with a dedicated center leveraging the expertise of all of our health-focused units on campus to maximize the benefit we can offer to students and to society.

UNC Gillings is a global name in public health and the MHA program has been an important part of that legacy. You will become a part of that legacy by:

HONING YOUR MANAGEMENT SKILLS

The MHA core curriculum provides robust training in the fundamentals of health care organizations to give you the breadth of knowledge necessary to positively impact your organization. Whether its marketing, strategy, operations or business plan development, you'll be ready.

TRANSLATING THEORY INTO ACTION

Executive courses are structured to give you the opportunity to grapple with the problems you're currently facing at work through the lens of the topics you're studying. You'll bring your classroom learnings directly back to the workplace.

JOINING ALUMNI READY TO WELCOME NEW LEADERS

With more than 4,500 alumni working across the globe, HPM has the reach to get you where you want to go. And as is tradition for Tar Heels, our alumni are ready to welcome you to the Carolina family.
